INSURANCE ON CREDIT SEEN AS WORST EVIL, AS CONFERENCE OPENS

Illegal Rebating of Premiums Still Carried On Despite Efforts to Stop It, President Heath Tells the Provincial Superintendents of Insurance and Other Leaders in Business

Attorney-General Manson of British Columbia, and Mayor Pendray of Victoria, with addresses of welcome, this morning at the Empress Hotel opened the ninth annual conference of the Association of Superintendents of Insurance of the Provinces of Canada.

Heads of a number of the insurance companies of the country and some of the leaders in the insurance field in the United States are attending the convention, which will last until the end of the week. J. P. Dougherty, Superintendent of Insurance for British Columbia, is official host of the convention, and he is being backed by Victoria insurance men headed by the local Life Underwriters' president, Herbert Shade of the Mutual Life.

MORE EVIDENCE ON TRAIN WRECK ASKED

Coroner's Jury Refuses Verdict on Kettle Valley Disaster Till Two Men Called

Testimony as to Condition of Engine Crew Before Trip Is Desired

Merritt, B.C., Sept. 22.—The coroner's jury which inquired into the deaths of the victims of the runaway Kettle Valley train refused to bring in a verdict when it met this morning, until evidence could be given by the man who had called the engine crew on the front locomotive of the train for duty. The engine crew consisted of Robert Marks, engineer, who was killed, and Ray Letts, the fireman, who escaped by leaping from the train. The jury, through its foreman, Isaac Eastwood, also requested that the car inspector who examined the air brakes on the train at Brookmere terminal before it started, be called. The inquest was further adjourned until to-night as the men required have been called.

It has not been established how many persons were killed in the wreck. Only the remains of the engineer were identified. It was said there were indications the deaths may have totaled as high as fifteen.

Foreigners Leave City of Wuchang

Hankow, Sept. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Shepherd, two of the twenty-one United States citizens who have been on starvation rations for a week in the besieged city of Wuchang, were released to-day from the furnishing city and crossed the river to Hankow. By agreement of the defending Northerners and the Cantonese invading forces, the city's gates will be opened for three hours to-morrow to permit all women and children to leave.

MINING ENGINEER OF B.C. WAS KILLED

A. McGuire, Employed in Mexico, Lost Life on Oregon Highway

Portland, Ore., Sept. 22.—J. A. McGuire, a mining engineer of Etna, California, recently of Vancouver, B.C., was killed and his wife was injured when their automobile skidded near Sutherlin, Oregon, late yesterday. The body will be shipped to Vancouver.

ON WAY TO MEXICO

Vancouver, Sept. 22 (Canadian Press).—John A. McGuire, a graduate of the University of British Columbia in 1923, was it is feared, the victim of the fatal automobile accident reported in the Portland dispatch. He left Vancouver with his wife recently to motor to Mexico, where he was employed as engineer for the Homestead Mine.

He was about thirty years of age and had graduated from the local university after several years of practical mining experience.

LENGLEN TRAVELS

Paris, Sept. 22.—Suzanne Lenglen left to-day for the United States to engage in a series of professional lawn tennis matches.

DOMINION LEADER OF ARMY AND NAVY VETERANS HERE

MAJ.-GEN. HON. W. A. GRIESBACH, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O.

WILL FIX DATE FOR OPENING OF HOUSE

Legislature to Get Down to Serious Business After Christmas Adjournment

Premier to Consult Pooley to Ascertain Opposition's Wishes on Dates

Date of the opening of the Provincial Legislature's next session will be fixed by the Provincial Government shortly and proclaimed in The B. C. Gazette during the next few weeks.

ADJOURNS FOR CHRISTMAS

It is expected the House will open early in December and adjourn almost immediately to get down to serious business after the New Year. A Spring session has been definitely agreed upon by the Government and members of the Opposition to replace the Fall session practice of recent years.

Before fixing a date for the formal opening of the House Premier Oliver will call in R. H. Pooley, Opposition Leader, and ascertain the wishes of his Party. A date satisfactory to everyone will be selected.

It will likely be the middle of January before the business of the session actually gets under way.

PARAGUAY STORM DEATHS ESTIMATED

Figures Given in Wind-swept City of Encarnacion Vary From 200 to 500

Asuncion, Paraguay, Sept. 22.—The death list resulting from the hurricane which struck the city of Encarnacion Monday night continues to grow. With exact figures still lacking, official reports estimate the dead at 200, while other sources say the toll will reach 500.

One hundred bodies were buried yesterday and the work of exhuming the bodies of victims from the debris is still going on.

Many families are homeless and destitute and aid is being rushed to them from other cities. The property damage exceeds $1,000,000.

In the most seriously affected district, virtually all the buildings were destroyed, including two banks, two hotels and the customs house. The streets were blocked with debris and trees were uprooted. Much damage was done to the docks. The power plant collapsed, plunging the city in darkness.

Encarnacion, capital of the Department of the same name, is situated on the Parana River, 230 miles from Asuncion, capital of Paraguay. It has a population of 35,000, and is the centre of a rich agricultural and grazing district. It produces tobacco, hides and timber.

A ferry connects Encarnacion with the Argentine town of Posadas, just across the River Parana.

Encarnacion was established by the Jesuits in 1614.

CANADIAN PLANE FLIES TO CALIFORNIA

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—Squadron Leader A. Earl Godfrey of the Royal Canadian Air Force left the Jericho Beach air station at 9:30 a.m. to-day in the Douglas Canada plane in which he crossed Canada last week.

His immediate destination was Seattle. Thence he will fly down the coast by easy stages to Santa Monica, California.

ARMY AND NAVY VETERANS FROM ALL DOMINION GATHER AT ANNUAL CONVENTION HERE

Mayor Carl Pendray Welcomes Members of Organization and Ladies' Auxiliary to Victoria; President's Speech Read To-day; Sir Percy Lake Urges Unity

Mayor J. C. Pendray this morning welcomed delegates from all parts of Canada of the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada and their Ladies' Auxiliary, in session at their ninth annual convention at the Empress Hotel. He wished them every success in their conference labors, he said, and while he realized that they had important and troublesome matters to deal with, he knew that by tolerance and hard work they would accomplish what was most desirable and of greatest benefit to Canada.

Mayor Pendray painted for the visitors a vivid picture of Victoria's beautiful surroundings, the attractions of the city itself and its progress and growing prosperity.

He was given warm applause when he said that he hoped to see the delegates leave Victoria, the farthest-flung post of the British Empire in the western world, better friends of its people than when they first arrived. He hoped, too, that those delegates would have an opportunity of seeing all Victoria for themselves and of realizing its beauties.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Major-General the Hon. W. A. Griesbach, Dominion president, read his annual address as one of the first pieces of business.

"I welcome you to our ninth annual convention," he said. "I trust that our deliberations here will result in great good to our organization and that all that is said and done here will be characterized by dignity and moderation and with a profound sense of responsibility."

"During the year we have held our own," he went on. "Some branches have temporarily ceased to function. Other branches, temporarily quiescent, have been revived. Many branches report large increases in membership and a healthy tone pervades our whole organization."

FAITHFUL WORKERS

"During the past year I have visited our units at Quebec, Montreal, Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria. I regret that I was unable to accept the pressing invitations of many other units to visit them. Many of such units who have off the beaten track and I was unable to make it convenient to visit them. Everywhere I found our members striving to attain to and maintain high standards of conduct and behavior as individuals and as units seeking to conduct clubs, associations and benefit societies to the credit of the organization and to the satisfaction to our members," he said.

"At the last session of Parliament no Pension Legislation was introduced. Legislation was, however, brought down providing for a revaluation of land under the Soldier Settlement scheme. This legislation was subsequently amended in the Senate, so as to ensure speed in adjudication and economy in administration to the country and to the settler. Unfortunately this legislation was lost in the course of the political crisis of July last. I have no doubt that this or similar legislation will be brought down in Parliament in the near future," said General Griesbach.

C.N.R. OPERATING SURPLUS INCREASES

Greater Than the $32,000,000 of Last Year, Says J. E. Dalrymple

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—"I am satisfied the balance sheet of the Canadian National Railways for this year will be entirely satisfactory to the stockholders, who are the people of Canada," declared J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president of the system, before leaving for Prince Rupert after a five-day visit to Vancouver and Victoria.

"Last year we had an operating surplus of $32,000,000. Unless we have a very great calamity, which in our judgment will not appear, we will this year show a surplus very much in excess of that sum," he said.

Discussing transportation conditions generally, Mr. Dalrymple said he had spent a whole life in that business and could not remember a time when conditions were more promising.

"Business for all the Canadian railways is good," he said. "Business for the United States railways is good. What the railways are doing is a good index of commerce generally. I am preaching the gospel of a shortage of cars this Fall and Winter. I like to see a shortage of cars, because I like to see commerce at the peak, which makes the railways work overtime, and I believe we shall have to work overtime this Winter."

Vancouver businessmen with whom he had conversed were exceedingly busy and optimistic, he said.

Woman Killed in Florida May be Victoria Widow

Relatives in Victoria of Lucy Ann Roberts, seventy years of age, are making anxious inquiries in fear that the Mrs. Roberts of Victoria reported killed in Miami may prove to be their mother. Mrs. Roberts, a widow, had resided in Victoria for ten or twelve years, says her son, H. Roberts, 1151 Oxford Street, an employee of E. G. Prior & Company. She left Victoria several years ago for Santa Monica, California, and relatives fear that she may have left California for Miami. The fact that Mrs. Roberts had been speculating in real estate in California leads her son to believe that she may have left Santa Monica to purchase property during the Florida boom.

Mrs. Roberts was last heard from by relatives here about a month ago.

WIDESPREAD RELIEF WORK IN FLORIDA

Supplies of Water Sent to Miami, Where Hurricane Paralyzed System

Northwest Florida and Southern Alabama Residents Repairing Storm Damage

Miami, Sept. 22.—Having taken an almost unprecedented toll of life and property as it swept across south Florida and the eastern part of the Gulf of Mexico coast, the tropical hurricane which came out of the Bahamas last Friday night apparently had spent its fury in lower Mississippi last night before reaching New Orleans.

With the single exception of Pensacola and nearby towns direct communication with the nearly score of cities and towns in the wake of the storm had been re-established to-day.

With the arrival of an adequate supply of fresh water, sanitary conditions have been greatly improved in Miami and Hollywood, where the water and sanitary systems were totally destroyed.

Relief units are arriving hourly from the north with supplies of food, fuel, medicines and money.

Grocery men and druggists are dispensing food and medicines freely in many cases without pay.

REPAIRS MADE

New Orleans, La., Sept. 22.—Residents of northwest Florida and the southern portions of Alabama and Mississippi to-day renewed their efforts to improve communication facilities and make other repairs necessitated by the West Indian hurricane which roared inland Monday from the Gulf of Mexico. Three deaths and several millions dollars' worth of damage were attributed to the storm in that territory after it had spent its force many miles from the coast.

Pensacola, Florida, and Mobile, Alabama, suffered greater losses in property than other cities in the Gulf section. Crops were bare over a wide area.

MAN KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN OHIO

Nine Persons Hurt in Youngstown; Property Loss Totals $500,000

Youngstown, Ohio, Sept. 22.—An explosion and fire believed to have been caused by ethyl gas stored in the warehouse and basements of the Youngstown Grocery Company completely destroyed the three-story brick block of the company and a six-room house next door, shattered another house two doors away and broke windows for many blocks here early to-day.

The loss totals $500,000. The shock of the explosion was felt throughout the entire city. Nine persons were reported hurt and one man died.

G. Hilvers, head of the company, admits he received a Blackhand letter.

LIBERAL CHIEF COMPLETES LIST OF MINISTERS

Meighen Administration to Give Resignation to Governor-General, Who Is to Arrive in Ottawa To-night From Toronto; Expectation Is Right Hon. Mackenzie King and Ministers He Has Chosen Will Be Sworn In To-morrow

Ottawa, Sept. 22 (Canadian Press).—Right Hon. Mackenzie King is expected to become Prime Minister of Canada again to-morrow. Shortly before noon to-day Premier Meighen and his Cabinet met in what may be their final session before Mr. Meighen places his Ministry's resignation in the hands of the Governor-General. Baron Byng is to arrive in Ottawa from Toronto to-night.

Mr. King is understood to be finishing the task of organizing his Cabinet. In hotel lobbies, where leading politicians are wont to gather, there appears to-day the air of expectancy which usually precedes the swearing-in of a new Cabinet.

Practically all members of the old King administration are in the city. There are also some new faces.

VICTIM OF CRASH OF FONCK PLANE

Charles Claxson was radio operator aboard the New York to Paris Sikorski aeroplane which crashed when taking off at Westbury, N.Y., yesterday. He and the mechanic, a Russian, were pinned in the cabin and burned to death. The picture above has just reached Victoria.

MIAMI AGAIN HAS NEWS OF THE WORLD

Newspaper Wires Restored After Interruption Caused by Great Hurricane

Miami, Fla., Sept. 22.—Leased-wire communication with Miami was restored this morning when the Miami News office was cut onto the Associated Press Florida circuit. This was the first direct communication with Miami since the hurricane of last Saturday.

Mobile, Sept. 22.—The schooner Delta sank in the hurricane between Palm Beach and Miami Saturday, according to information received to-day at Moss Point, Mississippi, from where she sailed September 1. Capt. George C. Sherman was drowned. Other members of the crew landed at Del Ray, Fla.

The Delta was a three-masted ship owned by J. G. Murphy of Mobile.

As far as is known here, this was the only large vessel lost in the Gulf during the hurricane, although twenty-five schooners were reported damaged when the hurricane struck Pensacola Monday.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 22.—Thirty-five aeroplanes at the Pensacola naval station were lost in the storm that isolated Pensacola for more than twenty-four hours, the Associated Press reports to-day. There had been no loss of life, but property loss would reach $2,000,000, it was stated.

The aeroplanes cost $45,000 each and are practically a total loss. The loss to the naval station itself was heavy.

The wind velocity was 120 miles and the barometer fell to 28.01 at the height of the storm which raged from early morning to six o'clock Monday night.

LOOTERS ARRESTED IN MIAMI TOTAL SEVENTY-FOUR

Miami, Fla., Sept. 22.—Persons arrested here on charges of looting stores and other places of business destroyed or damaged by the great hurricane total seventy-four.

CABINET LIST

From current gossip, the Cabinet slate probably will be as follows:

- Prime Minister and Secretary of State for External Affairs — Right Hon. Mackenzie King.
- Finance — Hon. J. A. Robb.
- Justice — Hon. E. Lacombe.
- Railways — Hon. C. A. Dunning.
- Defence — Lieut.-Col. J. L. Ralston.
- Marine and Fisheries — Hon. P. J. A. Caudin.
- Public Works — Hon. J. H. King.
- Labor — Hon. J. C. Elliott.
- Interior — Hon. Charles Stewart.
- Immigration — Robert Forke.
- Agriculture — Hon. W. R. Mothershead.
- Trade and Commerce — Hon. James Macdonald.
- Customs — W. D. Euler.
- Postmaster-General — Hon. Lucien Cannon.

The above are named in current talk. Mr. King, following the usual custom, will not announce his Cabinet until he has been invited to form a Government and its members are ready to be sworn in.

E. B. Chevier of Ottawa is also mentioned as a possible appointee.

DANDURAND POSITION

Senator Dandurand, Liberal leader in the Senate, following custom, again probably will be a member of the Cabinet without portfolio.

Fernand Rinfret of Montreal, who has been suggested for a Cabinet appointment on a number of occasions, arrived in Ottawa this afternoon.

P. J. Veniot, former Premier of New Brunswick, who was mentioned in rumors for a place in the Cabinet without portfolio, is not favorable to entering the Cabinet under those conditions. It is stated to-day.

Paul Hatfield, M.P. elect for Shelburne-Yarmouth, N.S., is said to be slated for the Senate.

CANNON A MINISTER

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—Hon. Lucien Cannon, it is stated in well-informed political circles here this afternoon, will be Solicitor-General in the new King cabinet, now under formation.

Former Premier Peter Veniot, of New Brunswick, will, it is intimated, be placed in charge of a department.

MANITOBA FARMERS RESUME THRESHING

Fall of Snow, General Over Alberta, Delays Threshing in That Region

Winnipeg, Sept. 22.—A brisk north-west wind, with temperatures ranging from thirty to fifty degrees, is rapidly drying the land in the Kenora, Portage and Prairie and Souris regions served by the Canadian Pacific Railway and threshing will be general again to-morrow in the entire province of Manitoba. The Regina region reports no rain or snow for past twenty-four hours. In the Moose Jaw, Shaunavon, Swift Current and Kerrobert districts there was a light fall of snow, but the weather this morning was fair and cool. The Saskatchewan area had a light snow, but is dry and not much interference with threshing is anticipated.

From two to four inches of snow is on the ground in Alberta and snow to-day is falling throughout the whole province.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS

Canadian Pacific grain inspections totaled 1,254 cars on all lines on the prairie, with a total marketable of 2,643,223 bushels, as against 1,541,269 bushels in the same period of last year. The loadings in the three provinces amounted to 1,467 cars, with 2,414,313 bushels in storage at elevators on the C.P.R. and 12,423,000 bushels at Fort William at 8 o'clock this morning. Yesterday a total of 288,000 bushels was shipped in vessels from Fort William.

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London (By Mail).—Tenants of houses and flats in Kennington Oval were indignant at being served with notices by customs and excise officials, stating that they were liable for entertainment tax if they let their windows or balconies for the final test match.

Residents were also disturbed by the rumor that the landlord of a block of houses in the Oval intended to levy a charge in the receipts of the tenants.

"The landlord's agent told me that if we let our windows he was going to get something out of it," a tenant told a press representative. "He's coming round on Saturday to see for himself."

It is understood that those tenants who are in the Duchy of Cornwall, and whose landlord is the Prince of Wales, were not asked to submit to any such charge. Protests against the attempt to levy entertainment tax were heard on all sides.

"An Englishman's house is his castle, and if I have fifty people here I don't see that it concerns anyone but myself," said the owner of a balcony.

"My rooms are not public, neither do I provide the entertainment," said another. "Fortune has given me this home and I don't think I should be deprived of the full advantage of it. A tax collector cannot demand admission to see how many people I have upstairs."

All windows and balconies were let round the Oval. In many cases the agreement was for every day for which the match lasted. Standing-room on a flat roof was let at 8s. 6d. a day, on which the entertainment tax was 1s.

COAL NEGOTIATIONS IN BRITAIN DRAG

Men's Leaders Say Government's Plan to End Strike is Change of Front

New York, Sept. 22.—A special cable dispatch to The New York Herald-Tribune says:

The entire executive committee of the British Miners' Federation met Premier Baldwin and the Cabinet coal committee in Downing Street last night and declared Mr. Baldwin's latest plan to end the coal strike was a complete change of front from the earlier promise to the miners made by Right Hon. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Although condemning the Premier's proposal that the miners yield on the point of national bargaining with the mine owners, the strikers' representatives did not definitely reject the compromise, but left a way open to allow for further negotiations with the Government.

Yesterday the miners' executive discussed among themselves what attitude they would take regarding the compromise suggestion of the Government, offering to establish a national arbitration tribunal if the miners would return to work immediately on the day of district agreements. In the midst of the meeting the miners sent a letter to Mr. Baldwin, which accused the Government of prolonging the delay in its newest policy.

POLICY ABANDONED

"The Chancellor of the Exchequer on September 8 affirmed the Government adhered to the principle of national negotiations," the miners' letter stated. "It would now appear the Federation was mistaken in taking the Chancellor's declaration seriously. On September 17 the Government completely abandoned the policy announced on September 8 and advanced a proposal exactly opposite in character. The Federation convention is reluctant to believe it can represent the considered judgment of the Government."

The miners indicated they still were ready to enter into negotiations for a new national agreement with a view to reducing labor costs.

A telephone call from Downing Street asking the miners to attend last night's conference of the Cabinet members followed receipt of the letter.

Miss Kate Berto has left for the state of Washington where she will visit friends.

The funeral of the late Mr. A. Wier took place on Friday afternoon from the Odd Fellows Hall, Robert Street, and was largely attended. Many and beautiful were the flower offerings. The pallbearers were William Heyes, William Allen, Thomas McMillan, Robert Joyce, James Buckner and William Davenport.

Pioneer Woman Dies at Duncan

For Years Was Nurse And Governess to Sir Olive Phillips-
Wolley Family

(Special to The Times)
Duncan, Sept. 22.—Miss Amy Hannam passed away at the King's Daughters' Hospital, Duncan, on Monday evening, after an illness of over three months' duration. Miss Hannam came to this country many years ago, and has no relatives here. She was for a long time governess in the family of the late Sir Olive Phillips-Wolley, and afterwards at the Clive Trench home on Salt Spring Island. Her many friends around and in this district will be grieved to hear of her death. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of L. C. Brockway.

Badminton Club Meets at Duncan

Duncan, Sept. 22.—The annual general meeting of the Duncan Badminton Club was held in the Agricultural Hall on Monday evening. Officers elected for the coming year were as follows:

President, N. R. Craig; vice-presidents, Col. Dopping-Hepental and D. V. Dunlop; committee, Miss V. Stilwell, L. Price and Alfred Bazzett; secretary-treasurer, F. A. Hall; tea committee, Mrs. D. V. Dunlop, Mrs. Dopping-Hepental, Mrs. W. E. Blythe.

It was decided that there would only be five months' play this season, instead of six months, as formerly, to commence on October 16.

RAIL ARGUMENTS BEING PREPARED

McGeer to Present B.C.'s
Case For Rate Equalization
to Board

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—Whether an appeal will be taken from the refusal of the Railway Commission to allow prosecution of the Canadian Pacific Railway and its leading executives for alleged failure to comply with the order directing equalization of grain rates is a matter for mature deliberation, according to G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for the Government of British Columbia. While considering this aspect of the issue, Mr. McGeer is also now deep in the task of analyzing the evidence presented to the board in the general equalization inquiry held in every province of Canada. No date has yet been set for the final argument of this case, which has been in progress for nearly a year, but Mr. McGeer expects counsel will be able to attend some time in November for that purpose.

NEW BRITANNICA TO BE OUT SOON

J. L. Garvin as Editor Writes on Capitalism, G. B. Shaw on Socialism

London, Sept. 22.—A generous tribute was paid by J. L. Garvin, the editor-in-chief, to the intellectual collaboration of Americans in the task of getting out the thirteenth edition of the "Encyclopedia Britannica," which will be ready for distribution in a few weeks. The new edition, the first to be issued since the World War, will be dedicated jointly to President Coolidge and King George.

AMERICAN LEADERS CONTRIBUTE

Mr. Garvin, who is editor of The Observer, as well as of the "Encyclopedia Britannica," writes on "Capitalism," while George Bernard Shaw contributes an article on "Socialism." Leon Trotsky is the author of an essay on "Leninism." Einstein on space, Mme. Curie on radium, Marcelon on wireless, Voronoff on rejuvenation, Freud on psychoanalysis, Sigmund Lieben on lawn tennis and among the world-famed statesmen contributing are Ramsay MacDonald, Joseph Calliaux, Edouard Herriot, President of the League of Nations, Count Bethlen of Hungary and Foreign Minister of Stresemann of Germany. In a statement Mr. Garvin praises the collaboration between the editorial board in London and a board in America, headed by Franklin Hooper.

"I may say," writes Mr. Garvin, "that without American support the work could not have been undertaken at all, owing to the enormous increase in the cost of production since the Great War, no single country of Europe could hope to undertake with success an enterprise of this magnitude."

LINKS ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLE

Later Mr. Garvin writes: "I may be excused for remarking that to interpret the English-speaking communities to each other has been one of the chief objectives throughout my life and that this purpose runs right through the volumes without having made us forget for a moment that it must be harmonized with another purpose. For my part, I never ceased to remember this as regards the United States—the strongest single society that has ever existed, that, though England is the mother country of the language and law of America, all Europe is the mother region of the various elements that mingle in the racial blood and feeling of America."

To the editor in chief the intimate co-operation and friendship between the editorial board in England and the American editor and contributors has been by far the most attractive part of the task. A century and a half after the political severance of the great English-speaking peoples the Encyclopedia Britannica remains what it was then and more than ever—a common institution and an intellectual link. Once more by express permission its volumes are dedicated jointly to King George and President Coolidge. May the day never come when that symbol of kinship and amity will disappear."

Vancouver Area Union Plan is Frowned Upon

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—"Vancouver City Council will have nothing to do with the county council idea," declared Mayor L. D. Taylor when asked for opinion on the proposal emanating from the Vancouver Council, that a plebiscite on the question be taken by all the municipalities of the Vancouver-New Westminster district at the next civic elections. "Personally," said the mayor, "I am strongly opposed to the county council plan and I believe it has few, if any, supporters in the council."

PROBATE DUTY APPEAL SOON

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—Intention of the Government to appeal from a decision of Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald holding probate duty is not payable on real property has been announced. Clarence Darling has been retained to argue the appeal. The decision was given at the suit of the executrix of the estate of the late Richard Bowman, who sought a declaration that probate duty was not payable on the real estate in her late husband's estate in addition to succession duty, which is not contested.

MEDICAL RECIPROCITY

LABOR DELEGATES ENDORSE LEADER

Vote at Dominion Congress
Session in Montreal Supports Tom Moore

Montreal, Sept. 22.—An effort on the part of John W. Bruce, organizer of the United Association of Plumbers, Gas and Steam Fitters, at yesterday afternoon's session of the Dominion Trade and Labor Congress, now assembled here, to do away with the regular yearly salary for the president of the Congress, ended after much debate in whole-sale endorsement of President Tom Moore.

Only Mr. Bruce himself voted for his motion. In the course of his speech, in which he urged there should be a part-time president employed at the rate of $12 a day and expenses, Mr. Bruce criticized President Moore. But delegate after delegate rose and eulogized the work of the president.

Delegate J. W. Wilkinson of Edmonton said that never at any time in its history had the Congress a president who enjoyed the respect of the labor movement, of the general public, and of the governing bodies of Canada more than now.

MOTION PICTURES

The convention unanimously approved of a resolution calling for legislation which would control in greater detail the operation of moving picture machines, including the examination of operators of such machines. A resolution was approved asking that the manufacture of clothing in the homes of wage earners be entirely eliminated by law.

The convention adopted a resolution urging more stringent regulation in the matter of granting licenses to drive motorcars, and urging also that all motorcar owners should take out public liability insurances when being granted licenses.

BYNG SAYS FAREWELL TO ONTARIO PEOPLE

Toronto, Sept. 22.—"I am going home with an optimism about Canada that nothing can shake," said Baron Byng, retiring Governor-General of Canada, in his farewell speech in Toronto last night.

"I have seen your country and your people, and I go home optimistic more than ever for the Dominion." "Ties that have been so deeply rooted, ties that have been consecrated by such enduring reminiscences, can never fade or wither," Baron Byng said after recounting briefly his administration for the 30,000 Canadian troops who stormed Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917, and his hopes for the future of Canada. "And to our dying day we shall remember with feelings which cannot be expressed in words the extraordinary marks of confidence and goodwill we have received from your citizens."

Lady Byng was also a guest at the banquet, which was tendered by the Government of Ontario. The speakers included Premier Howard Ferguson, Lieutenant-Governor Cockburn and J. W. Mulock, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

THUMB SUCKING

One reason that thumb sucking is such a difficult habit to cure is that in the beginning most mothers consider it such an adorable thing for the baby to do. It is only when a child has reached the sometimes appalling teens that the mother understands the real strength of this seemingly harmless habit. And this is only the obvious consequence of it. A baby's mouth is the most sensitive portion of his body, which makes it most natural for everything to fly to it, food, nipples, fingers, clothes, for everything that comes into contact with the mouth gives the baby a pleasurable sensation. It doesn't mean that he is hungry always, though a starved baby will try to extract some comfort from the most barren objects.

If the baby is early discouraged in this habit of sucking unless it really has to do with the taking of food, he will soon lose the habit. Some babies never do start it, so that it can't be said to be any real necessity in promoting the baby's happiness.

The best method of discouragement is to use some mechanical means of keeping the baby's hand away from his mouth until he forgets how good it tastes. Usually the baby sucks his thumb only when he is sleepy or hungry, so the only time such a discouragement would be necessary is at bedtime, for when he is hungry he should have food and not his thumb. A stiff fold of newspaper fastened at the elbow will make it impossible for the baby to bend his arm, and yet won't prevent his waving it at will. If this method makes him restless and irritable, try a strip of adhesive tape on the thumb itself. Start the tape on the thumb nail and carry the half inch strip over to the ball of the thumb loosely, angles to this. This does not entirely cover the thumb, but makes a loose cap which, because of the air holes is most unproductive of pleasure when sucked.

This device may remind older children that they mustn't suck their thumbs, which when continued for years is often an unconscious habit.

Now, for the reasons why thumb sucking is bad, irrespective of the embarrassment of it when a child grows older. The constant sucking arches the roof of the mouth so that the teeth protrude and the teeth fail to meet and properly align with the lower ones. The nose becomes pinched and thin and when the sucking encourages adenoids, as it does, one has all the ills of these pets to contend with. Is it any wonder that when one knows the evils that follow thumb sucking, or sucking on any toy of a device, water bottle, nipple or anything else, one wants to spread the news widely and protect the innocent baby.

SOCIAL WOMEN'S AFFAIRS AND CLUB NEWS

CLUB WOMEN SEE JAPANESE ARTS DEMONSTRATED

Miss Ethel Head Gave Interesting Address Before Women's Canadian Club

"I should like to appeal to the women of Canada to uphold the hands of the women of Japan and Asia who are striving to achieve much-needed reform. Here you are enjoying a measure of success. The hard days of struggle are behind you. There the struggle lies ahead of them. I cannot tell you how much a gesture of interest from you would help these women of the Orient who are struggling for their emancipation. One sees on every hand there things crying out for reform, and it is through the women that such things must come. The womanhood of Japan is pure and charming, the result of centuries of education in the virtues and the graces. They, I believe, will be the saviors of their country."

JAPANESE CULTURE

This appeal on behalf of the women of Japan was made by Miss Ethel Head, a former Victorian who has recently returned after six years' residence in the "Land of the Rising Sun," before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.

It came as the climax of an interesting address on some of the arts and accomplishments of the women of Japan, in which Miss Head demonstrated the delicate beauty and spirit of Japanese flower-arrangement and the art known as "bon seki."

While arranging several sprays of rowan with its scarlet berries in this habit of sucking unless it really has to do with the taking of food, he will soon lose the habit. Some babies never do start it, so that it can't be said to be any real necessity in promoting the baby's happiness.

The best method of discouragement is to use some mechanical means of keeping the baby's hand away from his mouth until he forgets how good it tastes. Hebdon. Last night's dance was the first of the winter series, which will be held on every second Tuesday in the month.

Silver Tea at Mt. Talmie—A silver tea and home-cooking sale will be held at the home of Mrs. Lytton, Ernest Avenue, Mount Talmie, on September 25, from 2 to 6 p.m. The proceeds will be in aid of Luke's W.A. All welcome.

Flags and colored lights lent a festive air to the hall on View Street recently acquired by the Native Sons of Canada and the Canadian Daughters' League when the two organizations were joint hosts at a delightful evening's party. The occasion was in the nature of an opening dance in the new hall, and the decorations arranged by the Hudson's Bay Company were in keeping with the festivity.

Mahwood of Calgary, spent the week-end in Victoria as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fowles, the Balmoral Hotel, and left yesterday by motor via Port Angeles for their respective homes in Alberta.

Yesterday afternoon a pretty wedding took place at "Breadalbane," the minister's residence, when an assembly of friends of the principals met to witness a ceremony by Major Rev. Dr. Campbell, which made Miss Gertrude Schofield the bride of Mr. Duncan Logan, both of Victoria. The bride was charming in a gown of royal blue and trimmed with silver lace, felt traveling hat and fur-trimmed coat. She was accompanied by Miss G. A. Leggett in a gown of grey and pink crepe de Chine, and picture hat. After the ceremony a reception was held at Pail Mall hall. On return from honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Logan will make their home in this city.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. M. A. Moore, 2715 Balmoral Avenue, on Monday evening when her youngest daughter, Carol M. Cambridge, became the bride of Mr. James Gibbs, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gibbs, Wolseley Avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilton, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. H. J. Cambridge. The bride looked charming in white crepe de Chine with a silk net embroidered veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, carnations and maidenhair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Christine Moore, sister of the bride, was dressed in mauve silk crepe and wore a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. Mr. Tom Kay supported the groom, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. C. Nash Curtis, sister of the bride. During the signing of the register Miss Laura White sang "All For You."

The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion by friends of the bride. Among the many beautiful presents received by the young couple were a presentation of silver and cutlery to the bride from the staff of the Hudson's Bay Company and to the bridegroom of a filed wallet from the staff of the V.I.M.P.A. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs left by the midday train for the honeymoon, and on their return will reside in Beechwood Avenue, Victoria.

Metropolitan Silver Tea—Circle No. 3 of the Metropolitan Ladies Aid will hold a silver tea on Friday afternoon, September 24, from 3 to 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. J. Pendray, 353 Belleville Street. A good musical programme has been arranged. The proceeds will be used for the annual bazaar to be held in November.

Sketch Club—The Sketch Club of the Islands Arts and Crafts will meet at the home of Mrs. A. E. Averill, 1503 Rockland Avenue, at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon next.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Semple of Victoria are visiting Harrison Hot Springs where they are guests at the Hotel.

Thompson of Providence, Rhode Island, Mr. R. H. Fooley and Mrs. Fooley, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hill and Mr. E. W. McMullen.

In honor of Mrs. J. Bull (nee Gladys Fairclough) the Misses Gwen Pontifex and "Pinkie" Grubb were joint hostesses at a social evening at the home of the former on Niagara Street, when a number of the graduates of St. Joseph's Hospital assembled to show their esteem of Mrs. Bull, a popular graduate of the hospital, whose marriage took place recently. Mrs. Pontifex assisted in receiving the guests, among whom were Mrs. Tomay, Mrs. Charles Scrivenner, Mrs. N. E. Wilson, Miss Beth Reid, Miss Aline Lawrence, Miss Phyllis Wightman, Miss Frances Williams, Miss Mollie Fowler, Miss Margaret Redford, Mrs. Doris Lambert, Miss Isobel Roberts, Miss Grace Oliver, the Misses Ursula and Nell Whitehead, Miss Kathleen Beveridge, Miss Willie Blackie, Miss Mabel Ringshaw, Miss Esther O'Reilly, the Misses Beale and Lillian Graham, Miss Amelia Dunn, Miss Ethel Ponsford, Miss M. J. McLeod, Miss Margaret Reid, the Misses Alice and D. Sangster and others.

On Wednesday evening a surprise party was given by Miss Thelma Smith at the home of her parents in honor of Miss Thelma Young, whose wedding will take place shortly. The surprise took the form of a miscellaneous shower, and many beautiful gifts were presented to the bride-elect. The reception room was charmingly decorated with mauve and white asters, and on a table in the centre the gifts were arranged under a prettily decorated umbrella.

Flowers, called decorated with miniature bride and groom and attendants centered the supper table. Those present were Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Keen, Mrs. Maynard, Mrs. J. Smith, Mr. Lawrie, Mrs. Strong, Mrs. Gribble, Mrs. Findlay, Mrs. Shad, Mrs. Youngs, Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. J. Creech and Betty Shad.

Yesterday Dr. Charles Mair celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday. All day letters and messages of congratulations from friends throughout Canada were pouring in, and during the afternoon and evening many old friends and admirers and many new friends made during his two years' sojourn in Victoria called to offer their good wishes. His sunny room in Mrs. Place's nursing home was filled with flowers, was brightly decorated with flowers, and with exceptionally good health and spirits, and keenly appreciative of the attentions of his friends with whom he talked pleasantly, being particularly happy in his reminiscences of other days. His daughter, Mrs. Cann, of Calgary, who is spending the winter in Victoria, assisted her father in receiving his guests. A number of the executive of the Victoria and Islands Branch, Canadian Authors' Association, were among those received by Dr. Mair yesterday. A beautiful collection of autumn flowers arranged by Mrs. Rathorn and accompanied by a personal poem of congratulations gave evident pleasure to the guest who has long been known as the dean of Canadian poetry.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. M. A. Moore, 2715 Balmoral Avenue, on Monday evening when her youngest daughter, Carol M. ### QUEEN MARIE TO VISIT THIS COAST

Rumanian Royal Traveler to Cross Continent From Coast to Coast

Washington, Sept. 22.—An itinerary for Queen Marie of Rumania, which will take her from coast to coast, across the United States and twice into Canada, was made public here yesterday by the Rumanian Legation, which outlined the route she will travel on her approaching trip to America.

Queen Marie and her party are to sail from Cherbourg October 12 on the liner Leviathan, and arrive in New York in about six days.

After stopping a few hours in New York, she will come to Washington to pay her respects to President Coolidge. The next or the succeeding day the party will leave for Baltimore, to remain for a few hours, and then to New York, where the Queen will spend several days.

After New York stops will be made at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Buffalo, Toronto, Detroit, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Lewistown, Mont., Yellowstone Park, Seattle, Vancouver, B.C., Blaine, Wash., Portland, Ore., San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Leaving the coast, the Grand Canyon will be the next stopping place. Then Albuquerque, N.M., Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis, Louisville, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, and then back to Washington, where she will remain some time.

"POLLYANNA" AIDS SOLARIUM FUNDS

Lt.-Governor Attends Performance and Commends Spirit Behind Scheme

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie were among the patrons at last night's production of "Pollyanna" given in aid of the Solarium fund at the Coliseum Theatre. In a brief address between the acts, His Honor commended the spirit which inspired the presentation of such a play as "Pollyanna" for the alleviation of suffering children.

To those who enjoyed their health it was difficult to realize the tragedy of a life spent in bed, but it should not be difficult to give some thought to the afflicted children for whose benefit the Solarium scheme had been projected.

Victorians had given generously to the project, and he thought that patrons of last night's play would find arms and legs to the cause. In knowledge that by their presence they had ensured a further contribution to the funds which were destined to bring happiness, sunshine and the prospect of future health to the afflicted little ones of this Province.

Mrs. J. C. Pendray, representing the Mayor, and members of the City Council also lent their patronage to the performance.

MILK SUBSTITUTED FOR BEER IN U.S.

W.C.T.U. Convention Told Working Conditions Improved Under Prohibition

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—Autumnal flowers centred the tables at the luncheon of the Vancouver District W.C.T.U. in Chalmers' Church, Tuesday, following the consecration service, which inaugurated the third annual convention of that organization.

Delegates from all parts of the Province were present, Mayor L. D. Taylor, holding delegates welcome on behalf of the city.

"Prohibition is undoubtedly a success in the United States," said Mrs. Nellie Cluow, vice-president of West Washington State W.C.T.U. "Drinking among high school students is practically non-existent, and I regard statements to the effect that it does exist in United States high schools as exaggerated."

"Workingmen drive their own automobiles, and are in general more prosperous than ever before. As a result of more children attending school, the benefits of a good education are becoming apparent in every class. Working conditions are better and the health of the average person who has substituted milk for beer and rational living for dissipation can not be overlooked."

The Presbytery of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, met recently in the Metropolitan vestry, with a good representation of members. Encouraging reports were received from the various secretaries, showing the work is being carried on with enthusiasm. The treasurer, Mrs. Christie, reported she had received $581 for the first quarter ending June 30. The president, Mrs. Westman, reported the organization of an auxiliary at Cowichan Station, and the prospect of two more in the near future.

Welcome Club—The Welcome Club will meet on Thursday evening, September 23, at the Y.W.C.A. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock. The president, Miss Major, will take charge of this meeting, and will give a talk. The club extends a hearty invitation to any girls who would care to join in these meetings.

United Church Presbyterial Met

The opening dance of the C.P.R. Social Club will be held at the Empress Hotel ballroom on Thursday, September 20. It is requested that patrons who have not yet received invitations for this season will make application for them as early as possible through members of the club. Last season's cards will be honored for this first dance, but after that date it will be necessary to have the new invitations.

The committee have engaged Pitt's orchestra for the opening dance.

DUPLICATE CABLE ON WAY TO BANFIELD

DO MINA ARRIVES SOON WITH 5,000 MILES OF LINE TO CROSS PACIFIC

STILL LESS FISH MOUNT FRASER, BABCOCK SAYS, AFTER INSPECTION TOUR

Work of Duplication of Cable From Banfield to Suva Will Take Eighteen Months to Complete

Laying of the duplicate cable across the Pacific Ocean from Canada to Australia will soon be commenced, the cableship Domina, constructed especially for the purpose of holding the huge length of cable, being due to arrive at Banfield within a few days. With the arrival of the ship, bringing over 5,000 miles of unbroken cable, preparations for the great undertaking will be virtually completed.

Latest reports from Banfield, the Canadian end of the cable, are to the effect that numerous improvements have been made there. Men have been working for over six months, putting up new buildings.

FROM BANFIELD TO SUVA

The duplicating of the cable will be done from Banfield to Suva, it having already been completed between that point and the Australian terminal. This will entail the laying of 5,210 miles of cable. The route allowed will be that of the older cable, from Banfield to Panning Island and thence to the Fiji Islands.

It was during the early part of last year that the Pacific Cable Board made the decision to have a second cable laid. The single cable then in operation was found to be inadequate to handle the immense volumes of commercial traffic. Wireless, it was seen, was not going to provide a means whereby to do away with cable work, so it was decided by the cable board to have the second cable laid down.

According to announcements made at that time, it was stated that the new cable would be laid in eighteen months to lay. The Domina when it arrives will make preparations or the immediate commencement of the work, so that early in 1927 a new link between the Dominion and the "down under" will be in operation.

With the second cable in operation the cablegrams to the southern continent will be greatly diminished. This is the opinion of Sir James Glen, High Commissioner for Australia, who passed through Victoria recently.

The Pacific Cable Board had a hard fight to procure the necessary permission to lay the new cable. When the question went before the House of Commons last session there was a lively discussion. There was a difference of opinion between the former Postmaster-General and the British Government, which had the cable board, over the details of the contract for the new cable, which is an important link in the British cable connecting London and parts of the Empire in the Far East with the Antipodes. All objection, however, was finally smoothed over, and the work of laying the link proceeds.

ENORMOUS TASK
The enormity of the task in hand can be well computed when it is considered that the time taken to complete the laying of the cable, building of the cable ship, construction at the Banfield terminal, have all been under way since last year, and when it is finally completed in 1928, it will have taken two years to finish the task. The manufacture of the cable is a large task in itself. With over 5,000 miles in an unbroken line, and eighteen inches in circumference, the magnitude can be realized. While the cable is over a foot around, the cable wire itself is hardly larger than an ordinary telephone wire, and is encased in a specially manufactured insulation and coverings, insuring it against breakage and loss of current in transmission. At many points it will be sunk to a depth of over a mile.

THREE TUGS WILL BE OVERHAULED AT V.M.D.
Three tugs are now on the ways at the Victoria Machinery Depot for repairs and overhauling. They are the Quintilla, the Chehalis and the Edna Grace.

The Quintilla and the Chehalis, the former owned by the Island Tug Company and the latter by "Doc" Knowles, are both "Doc" Knowles' and will be thoroughly scraped and painted. The Edna Grace, which suffered a slight mishap last week near Sidney when she went aground, is in need of repairs. This tug will be permanently patched and given a good cleaning and painting.

The B.C. Coast Steamship Company's vessel Otter left the V.M.D. last night after undergoing a thorough overhauling and repairing.

CANADIAN YACHT IS ABANDONED BY CREW

Yacht Mary O'Connor Sinking South of Cape Sable; Mast Broken, Rudder Jammed

Boston, Sept. 22.—The Canadian yacht Mary O'Connor, sailing from Halifax, N.S., was abandoned to-day in a sinking condition thirty miles south of Cape Sable. The crew of six was picked up by the Dutch steamship Jacatra, and the yacht, which was considered a menace to navigation, was set on fire.

Word of the accident reached here by radio to-day. The Jacatra, of the Rotterdam Lloyd Line, bound for Boston from Batavia and other Dutch East Indian ports, reported the Mary O'Connor had lost her mast and her rudder was jammed and that she was otherwise damaged. She was flying a distress flag when the Jacatra sighted her.

SPECIAL N.Y.K. BOAT COMING TO COAST

The Yuri Maru, an extra steamer chartered by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Line, for a special run to this coast, will arrive in Seattle on October 4, according to word received at the offices of A. H. Hobb, local agent. The Yuri left Japan on September 17.

The vessel has about 650 tons for this coast, 276 of which will go to Vancouver. No definite word has been received yet as to whether the steamer will call at this port.

HONGKONG'S GREAT NEW DRYDOCK OPENS

Conditions in China Grave From Employers' Point of View

Hongkong's gigantic new drydock, 250 feet longer than that at Esquimalt, opened last week, according to James G. Garraway of the Compagnie Generale Industrielle, Hongkong, who is on vacation in Victoria. Chinese contractors constructed this huge ship hospital, the When Docking Company, one of the largest firms of its kind in the world, secured the contract. Despite the trouble which arose from time to time with laborers and the strikes which held up progress, the drydock is now ready for opening, and is recognized as the finest in the world. It is into this new drydock that the Empress of Asia and Empress of Russia will be hauled for repairs and overhaul.

Before Mr. Garraway left Hongkong, the country was stricken with labor upheavals of one sort or another, and the war had its death grip on trade and commerce. Business conditions, he said, were bad and much of the Oriental trade had really belonged to China had passed into the hands of German capitalists. Along the waterfront, too, there were disorders. Wharf laborers were constantly rioting among themselves and causing disturbances of one sort or another. Altogether, Mr. Garraway says, China is in a most disorganized and unfortunate plight.

Large Freight Cargo On Steamer Willfare

Seattle, Sept. 22.—The steamship Willfare of the Williams Steamship Company, due in Seattle, Saturday, is carrying a large cargo from the Atlantic coast and outward takes freight to Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, New York and Norfolk. In the same service, the freighter Willfare comes to Seattle from Everett, Thursday, to complete loading for the east coast.

The Johnson Line motorships Axel Johnson and Libby come here next month, it was announced yesterday, to take Pacific Northwest apples to North European ports.

After discharging several hundred tons of European freight, the Furness Pacific liner Southwestern Miller, which arrived here yesterday, loads 2,000 tons of general cargo at Seattle and Tacoma, including a large shipment of copper ingots at the latter port. The motorship Pacific Shipper of the same service is due here October 4 and will take out apples for England.

On September 30, the steamships

Princess Kathleen and Princess Margaret will be withdrawn from the triangular run, Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, announced yesterday. It is probable that the Princesses Charlotte and Adelaide will replace the vessels.

On her trip among the lighthouses and gas buoys along the coast, the C.G.S. Estevan arrived in Prince Rupert last Saturday. After coaling, Estevan will return to New York.

there the vessel left for the Queen Charlotte Islands, where she is at present doing heavy lighthouse work.

To utilize and at the same time test out some of its Sumas lands still unsold to private purchasers the Government planted large areas to clover this year with the intention of using the crop for seed purposes. The clover has grown so well that the Government is now planning to sell the seed in British Columbia next year, it is believed. The exact production has not been estimated yet but the yield per acre will be enormous and the seed is reported as being of the highest quality.

TO RAISE PRICES
Demand for Sumas land among farmers of British Columbia and United States agriculturists has grown to such an extent that Mr. Barrow is considering plans under which the prices generally would be raised. Before any revision of that sort is made, however, he will call in private land owners within the reclamation area and ascertain their views.

While sown to clover the Government's Sumas lands have not been on the market. A definite decision on their disposal will be made when the present huge crop has been harvested and threshed for seed.

FIND KEEN INTEREST IN S.P.C.A.'S WORK
Various questions pertaining to the care of animals and the laws for their protection were discussed at the monthly meeting of the S.P.C.A., at which R. W. Hunter presided. The society was pleased to note the general interest taken in the spread of humane work, and to find that visitors to this city who belong to humane societies in other parts of the continent make an effort to get in touch with the local officers and report cases which they think require attention.

Inspector Maurice gave an interesting report of his month's work which included the following cases investigated: Dogs 4, chickens 2, fish 1, cows 2, cats 5 (4 destroyed), horses 6 (1 destroyed), cases in court 1, convictions 1. It was decided to hold the annual meeting early in November.

NEWS IN BRIEF

END OF CEMETERY BATTLE IN SIGHT

Point Grey Expected to Close Agitation by Buying Burial Site for Golf Links

A settlement of the long controversy over the proposed Point Grey cemetery appeared near to-day, following a lengthy interview between the Government and Point Grey representatives yesterday. It is considered likely that Point Grey will purchase land sold by the Government to a private company for cemetery purposes and turn it into a golf links. This proposal was advanced by Reeve Paton at yesterday's conference and seems likely to be adopted by the municipal authorities.

Meanwhile, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, stands ready to do anything in his power to assist negotiations along these lines. He will be willing to aid Point Grey and the cemetery company to get together and reach an amicable arrangement, he stated when questioned on the matter.

The Premier Office issued a lengthy statement to-day answering the assertion advanced in Point Grey that the Government, by an agreement of 1906, is bound to sell all land in its Point Grey subdivision by auction. The Premier quotes official documents to show that this argument is groundless and the Government is not bound by any such agreement in the case of the cemetery lands.

CADETS DON'T RATE RIFLEMAN'S MEETING AND SENIORS QUIT

Major F. Richardson, O.B.E., Now President of Victoria District Rifle Association

Veteran Riflemen Outvoted By Influx of Young Marksmen

Major Fred Richardson, O.B.E., was tendered a most unusual tribute last night at the annual meeting of the Victoria District Rifle Association, held at the Armories, when youthful cadets, who had attended en masse and voted Major Richardson into the Presidency of the Association.

The enthusiasm of the lads was too strong to be disturbed by emphatic charges by senior shots, to the effect that the cadets had "packed" the meeting with lads never seen at the weekly afternoon meets at Heals' Ranges. Protests proving unavailing in preventing the cadets from controlling the elections, the majority of the senior shots left the meeting.

ASKS STRICT INTERPRETATION
When Retiring President Capt. P. R. M. Wallis called for nominations, Capt. W. E. Tapley was advanced by Sergeant Major Durling and Sergeant Major Huffell, Major Fred Richardson, O.B.E., being nominated by Cadet Instructor Major W. J. Wilby and Cadet Capt. Perry. President Wallis stated that Major Richardson was ineligible because not in active service at the meeting, but was overruled when a cadet demanded strict interpretation of the constitution. Major Wilby then heard of the political maneuvering being "packed" by the cadets when Major Richardson's qualifications were challenged, but withdrew when that point was settled.

Eligibility of lads to vote was challenged, and Capt. Gillespie pointed out that those of the lads who had shot at Heals had paid only half marks fees at the weekly meets, and as learners should not rank with experienced marksmen in control of the affairs of the Association.

CHARGES LEVELED
Major W. J. Wilby was named vice-president unanimously, but the dissatisfaction of the veterans aroused anew when C.-Q.-M. S. D. Fyvie, proposed by a cadet for re-election as secretary, flatly refused to serve. "I have heard of political meetings being 'packed'," he said before he heard of it in a rifle association. There are boys here to-night who have never seen a rifle range. They are only here for election purposes," he charged.

Capt. Wallis, after relinquishing the chair to Major Wilby, stated: "I can pick a dozen lads who have never shot the ranges. They have come here instructed how to vote. I can go to the bank practice rooms in this Armory and draw the brass band and the pipers and tell them how to vote. I do not believe Major Richardson will accept the presidency under the circumstances. Most of the senior members having withdrawn, Vice-President Wilby refused to accept motions to reconsider. A motion of amendment to change the constitution to limit cadet representation. He considered that the senior members had withdrawn because they did not wish Major Richardson to be present, and would not receive a motion to adjourn.

Retiring President Wallis protested this interpretation: "I must object. We all like Major Richardson. We do not like to have a bunch of boys come here to dictate to experienced shots," he explained.

Cadet Capt. Simmonds was then elected temporary secretary. Cadet Capt. Wilkinson was chosen one of four members of the executive. Major Wilby ended a deadlock by filling the vacancy temporarily by appointing Cadet Capt. Colman, Cadet Capt. Perry and Cadet Capt. Blair.

SUNDAY MATCHES
The senior shots withdrew to other quarters in the Armories and formed a temporary organization to carry out the competitions with the Lower Mainland shots scheduled for next Sunday. The following teams were selected to represent Victoria: C.-S. M. W. Wood, Sergeant W. H. Barrow, Master Gunner H. Collins, C.-Q.-M. S. D. Fyvie, Captain G. C. Holland, Major P. Richardson and Sergeant B. W. Beaumont. Reserves will be Capt. P. R. M. Wallis and Arm. Q.-M. S. A. E. Evans. Capt. W. E. Tapley will act as coach.

Marking and register-keeping will be performed by volunteers, the temporary organization being unable to command the finances of the Victoria District Rifle Association. Riflemen.

A dinner will be tendered the visiting marksmen on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Dominion Hotel, and all rifle shots of Victoria will be welcomed by the temporary committee in charge of the arrangements. To permit of catering arrangements those proposing attendance at the dinner are asked to notify C.-Q.-M. S. D. Fyvie.

Although the shooting season of the district association has officially closed, a special practice will be held at Heals on Saturday afternoon, marking the opening of the Point Barracks. All marksmen will be welcomed at this final meet of the year open to individual shots.

SURPLUS EARNINGS MADE BY CITY IN NEW B.C.E.R. PACT

Power Company Pays $18,000 a Year For Rental of Water

City Earning Over $80 Daily For Excess Quantities Used in Last Two Weeks

The fruits of a supplementary agreement made by the city and the British Columbia Electric Railway Company in June last are beginning to show in surplus earnings now accruing to the city through the overtime operation of the sub-station at Japan Gulch.

The city treasury has benefited to the extent of $115 in the last two weeks, through the rental of surplus quantities of water flowing into Japan Gulch reservoir, due to the overtime operation of the sub-station in relief of the main Jordan River plant.

In addition to any surplus earnings from the rental of its water, the city secures a minimum of $14,000 a year from the company for the guaranteed supply of 9,000,000 gallons daily. The water is rented only, and returns to the reservoir for use in the city's waterworks system later.

The original agreement was made in 1915, holding good until 1935. This provided for an annual flat rate for the normal quantity of water required by the company, and gave the B.C.E.R. power to draw on demand up to 24,000,000 a day for a short period, paying for the surplus at the rate of $5.48 per 1,000,000 gallons. The old agreement, however, provided penalties where the city might be unable to meet the requests made on it for extra water.

Under the new pact the city is relieved of the penalties and cannot be made to forfeit if through any reason water is not available, as in insufficiency of rainfall. Under the old agreement the city could have been made to pay $150 a day penalty for non-supply in the quantities requested.

The supplementary agreement was put through by the city water committee on June 22 this year, continuing the yearly assurance of $15,000 to the benefit of the ratepayers, and additional sums as in the present case where the company is paying at the rate of $5.20 per day for the rental of extra water from Japan Gulch. With all its reservoirs full through conservation, the city is in excellent position to meet the demand, and for the last fourteen days has supplied 15,000,000 gallons daily to the rotors at Japan Gulch.

The question of the city's claim for damage through electrolysis on the Hillside main was taken up incidentally at the same time and an amicable settlement is pending. Details of the settlement have been left in the hands of Mayor Pandey and the officials of the company.

BASEBALL, TENNIS Better Team for Game On Mainland, Saturday

Victoria City Will Field Stronger Team for First Game Away From Home Against Westminster United; New Players Being Signed by Locals; First Division Will Open on Saturday With Two Games in City; Juniors Organize

Victoria City play their first game away from home on Saturday afternoon in the Pacific Coast Football League. The club will journey to Vancouver to encounter Westminster United.

The local team is being greatly strengthened in order to insure a better showing than that given on Saturday last against St. Saviour's. Jim Sullivan, president of the club, announced this morning that three new players had been signed but would not announce their names to-day. The Victoria City team will hold a workout before going across to the Mainland, and the selection committee will release the names of those picked about Friday.

Those in charge of the Victoria City eleven are determined to improve the team. They realize that if they are to receive the support of the local fans, they must field a team capable of playing good football and able to hold the other clubs in the league to close games.

HAVE HIGH HOPES

All the Mainland and Island clubs are continually on the lookout for good men. The local officials are confronted with the difficulty of finding jobs for good players, but despite these handicaps they hope that Victoria City will be right up in the race very shortly.

While the Victoria City team is away on the Mainland, Saturday will be free for the opening of the First Division. Two games will be played, which will bring together the four clubs that are seeking the championship of this city. The restricting of the division to four clubs this year will insure far better football.

The games on Saturday will be as follows: James Island vs. Esquimalt at Beacon Hill. Referee, Saunders.

Victoria Wests vs. Saanich Thistles at the Royal Athletic Park. Both games will start at 3 o'clock.

SWITCH IN VENUE

The game between Esquimalt and James Island, scheduled for September 23, when the league will meet at the Y.M.C.A. and draw up the schedule for the season. Juvenile entries should be filed with Mr. Walker.

All clubs intending to enter the Junior Football League must file their entries with Secretary J. Walker, 244 Mills Street, before September 23, when the league will meet at the Y.M.C.A. and draw up the schedule for the season. Juvenile entries should be filed with Mr. Walker.

New Westminster, Sept. 22.—Soccer followers are aware that Westminster United had a strong team last season, and it is interesting to record the fact that officials of the club figure they have an even stronger lineup for the forthcoming campaign.

The Royals will get their first test of strength at Vancouver on Saturday, when they oppose Victoria in a Coast League game. The Islanders lost to St. Saviour's last Saturday, but they are bringing a much more formidable team across the Gulf for Saturday's encounter, it is said.

An important feature of the Royals is that they will be managed by Sandy Michie, who guided the Lady Smith club to several triumphs in past seasons.

GRASS HOCKEY MEETING

The annual meeting of the Victoria Grass Hockey Association will be held to-night at 8 o'clock in the old Cathedral schoolroom, Quadra Street. All interested are invited to attend.

Fight Fans From All Parts of the World Swamp Philadelphia

Only Thoughts of Great Crowd Are a Place to Sleep and a Ticket to the Fight

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—The day before the battle found the Dempsey-Tunney championship bout still behind a smoke screen of legal entanglements, and the city of Philadelphia, swamped by the advance influx of one of the greatest crowds that ever gathered for a boxing spectacle anywhere, prepared itself for a showdown.

Among newspaper critics, there is almost universal conviction that Dempsey will win by a knockout inside of four rounds. Several wagers have been reported at odds of 2-1, that the challenger will take the final count before the end of the fourth.

Fans who are coming from all quarters of the globe to make a record crowd of probably 125,000 at the first heavyweight title match in three years are not bothered by the legal barriers that have beset the bout. Their chief difficulties have been concerned about getting a place to sleep and a ticket to see the fight. Both are becoming scarce.

The ticket problem already has become acute. Tex Rickard's downtown sale headquarters reported only a few thousand tickets left, those of the higher priced kind. Cheaper seats have been sold out and speculators already are asking fancy prices for them.

Elaborate arrangements have been made to handle traffic and crowds in the heart of the city as well as in the vicinity of the stadium. Approximately 3,000 policemen as well as one thousand ushers, ticket-handlers and other employees will be involved in the task.

New York, Sept. 22.—Odds on Jack Dempsey to successfully defend his heavyweight title in his match with Gene Tunney at Philadelphia, on Thursday, jumped to three to one in Wall Street yesterday, when a group of enthusiasts from Atlantic City placed a wager of $15,000 against $5,000.

Nurmi Cracks Record
Vienna, Sept. 22.—Paavo Nurmi, the Finnish runner, lowered his own world record for the three miles at a track meet here last night. He ran the distance in 14 minutes 7.4 seconds, 4-10 seconds better than the record.

Nurmi's record of 14 minutes 11-2 seconds for the three-mile race was set up in Sweden, August 24, 1923.

Does Channel in Eleven Hours

GEORGES MICHEL

Champsagne which he gulped en route helped him lower the Channel swimming record to 11 hours 6 minutes, declared Georges Michel, bulky Frenchman. And, when he landed, Michel's first call was for whisky. He was the third record-breaker of the year. Gertrude Ederle's time was 14 hours 31 minutes, Ernest Vierkotter's 12 hours 42 minutes.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Another injunction suit was filed in common pleas court to-day to stop the Dempsey-Tunney bout here to-morrow night. This time the Pennsylvania state athletic commission are the defendants in an action brought by B. C. Clements, president of the Chicago Coliseum Club.

Looking up is often the cause of that terrible complaint called socking. The very word is hideous, but it is nothing compared to the results of the disease. I can truthfully say that I very seldom fall a victim to this complaint, but I have socked quite enough shots to be able to realize the agonies one can suffer when in its grip. There is no bad shot in golf which furries a player so much as a shot off the socket and this accounts for the reputation of the mistake.

The more socked shots I see played, the more I am convinced that the cause is to be found in the arm action. The club is taken back in a hurried manner, and on the forward swing the player throws out her arms, with the result that the club head is thrust too far out at the moment it meets the ball.

The player who is suffering from an attack should go to a quiet corner of the course and try the following cure: Put a handkerchief under the left arm-pit, take a firm stance with the weight well on the heels, keep the head still and the left arm close to the body throughout the shot. If the handkerchief remains in the position in which it was placed, it is almost impossible to sock.

Fighters Confident On Eve of Bout For Heavyweight Honors

Dempsey Intends to Win With First Punch if Possible; Feels Like Two-Year-Old

Tunney Anxious to Prove That He is in the "Pink"; no Alibi if He Loses

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 22.—Gene Tunney "will have to be a good catcher to go over five rounds," in the opinion of Jack Dempsey.

"If I can tip Tunney over with the first punch I will do it," he champion said.

"Feeling like a two-year-old," he professed to be convinced that victory at Philadelphia is only a matter of a few rounds.

"I am going to win," he said. "How many rounds I don't know. If I can do it in the first round, I'll do it. If it takes a little longer I can't help it."

There are so many lawsuits pending that Dempsey plans to stay here until the last minute, arriving in Philadelphia just in time to weigh in to-morrow afternoon.

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—Gene Tunney has nothing to do until to-morrow. Watchful waiting was his slogan to-day.

He thinks he is in the pink of condition and is anxious to prove it. He will go from Stroudsburg in the private car of a friend, which will be sidetracked before the train reaches the station in Philadelphia and the challenger conveyed by motor car to a private home.

Tunney thinks that he is the better man but if he is not, he still says "May the better man win." He says he will have no alibi to uncover if defeated.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Another injunction suit was filed in common pleas court to-day to stop the Dempsey-Tunney bout here to-morrow night. This time the Pennsylvania state athletic commission are the defendants in an action brought by B. C. Clements, president of the Chicago Coliseum Club.

Low Scoring Stands Out in Pro Tourney

Garden City, N.Y., Sept. 22.—A wave of low scoring swept over the Salisbury Links yesterday, carrying Walter Hagen, Leo Diegel, Johnny Farrell and Gene Safzen on its crest to easy victories in the first round of the Professional Golf Association championship.

A one-sided victory by Farrell over Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, at 6 and 5, furnished the outstanding surprise. Watrous was swept off his feet by the Eastern professional's uncanny putting.

Off the line with his tee and iron shots, the veteran Jim Barnes yielded to a brilliant second round spurt by Sarazen, 5 and 4. Passing out of the fight with Barnes, Watrous and Turnesa were Bobby Cruikshank, runner-up to Bobby Jones in the 1923 open, and Harry Cannon of Kansas City.

Lacks Great Strength And Punching Power

Challenger, However, Has Battle for To-morrow Night All Planned and Thinks He Knows Every Move That Dempsey Will Make; Edgren Compares Him to Jim Corbett When in His Prime

By ROBERT EDGREN

At Stroudsburg, where Tunney began his training, everyone believes that Gene Tunney is going to knock Jack Dempsey out. And it's easy to picture the Greenwich Village boy slipping that crashing right hand of his over to Dempsey's chin. He has such a tremendous lot of snap in every movement, so much life and quick co-ordination of mind and muscle, and such complete confidence in himself.

In many ways Tunney will remind some of the old timers of Jim Corbett, when Jim was young and at his best. I don't mean the Corbett who fought and lost to Fitzsimmons at Carson, for at that time Corbett had already slipped back from his best form and lost some of the rounded strength he had when he knocked out Sullivan and whipped Charlie Mitchell in a few punches. Tunney looks a little like Corbett, especially from the back. He is of about the same height, and he has the same broad back and large head and thick strong neck. Like Corbett he is what Piper Donovan calls "top-heavy."

He has the built-up body of an acrobat or any athlete who spends years developing his strength and skill in gymnastics. Corbett was a gymnasium-developed fighter. He was a bank clerk, and had no experience with pick and shovel or axe such as is supposed to make the "natural fighter" dangerous. Corbett used his brain, to direct himself a perfect boxer, and directed his training to development of speed and skill rather than socking and taking socks. Tunney has brought himself up in the same way. He is a student, a good boxer who figures every combination and movement and practices day after day and month after month until this action in emergency is almost instinctive, yet is built on a network of studying, perfected plans, Corbett did that. He was the most brilliant boxer of his day. Corbett lost to some corking good fighters, like Fitzsimmons and Sharkey and even got in the wallop that won, but that was when he had passed the youthful condition that was like Tunney's to-day. No one knows what the Corbett of Sullivan's time might have done.

Tunney says that he prefers the Corbett style of fighting, and of training for fights, with the addition of a natural inclination to step in at every chance and try for a knock-out punch.

NOT A NATURAL FIGHTER
Tunney is proud of the fact that he is a developed fighter, not just a natural fighter.

"I used to get into a fighting rage—lost my head—in early bouts," he says. "I saw the result of that and determined to keep my head and use it to win."

Tunney believes in scientific development for fighting. "Nobody can be a scientist or an engineer without long study and years of hard work," he says. "Genius for fighting doesn't make a great fighter in a few months. Having the natural ability to hit is a fine thing, but it isn't enough. I been dazed so after I'd won a few bouts, when I began to meet men who knew a lot more about boxing than I did. Their skill offset my strength. So I want to work to gradually increase my skill by constant study and practice. I believe in having my fight in my mind, well planned. I'm confident that I have a plan to meet any emergency that may arise in the bout with Dempsey. I know from experience that, although I've been shaken and hurt by blows now and then, I've never been dazed so that I didn't know just what to do. I haven't been floored by any blow yet, and I'm curious to see how that new experience would feel, but not curious enough to allow myself to get in the way of one of Dempsey's punches. I can help it. Still I don't think Dempsey can hurt or daze me to any dangerous extent. I don't intend to be standing flat footed in the way of his blows like some of the bigger men he has fought. I think I know every movement Dempsey is likely to use, and that I have a way to project myself and find openings. If I can't, then I'll admit that careful study and planning and preparation are useless in the ring against instinctive fighting ability. I don't believe it now, and I don't expect to have to believe it after to-morrow. FIGHT ALREADY HIS

"I started with a fair equipment for fighting. At first I had no idea that I might develop into a contender for a championship. The ambition to win a championship came with improvement and the ensuing feeling of confidence.

"I have a perfect feeling of confidence in back and to this fight. I expect to beat Dempsey. I regard fighting Dempsey as a problem that has been solved and must now be written down clear to the finish. Here Gene told of the rubbing table and doubled his arms to show the long, smooth, well rounded and pliable muscles.

NO BUNCHY MUSCLES
"The built-up strong man couldn't break a pane of glass with a punch," Gene went on. "Bunchy muscles are stiff and slow. Speed and snap are the great essentials in punching. The muscles around the back and shoulders are the most useful, but they mustn't stand out in lumps and ridges, like a weight lifter's muscles. I punch the light bag and box and spend a lot of time with my punches in reserve for use when I want them. A fighter must be careful not to overtrain. It would be better to go in undertrained, supple and fast than to go in overtrained, strong and slow."

Gene Tunney has the right theory of boxing. If it works out he will be the first champion in many years who hasn't won the title through tremendous strength, hitting power and vitality. And as far as vitality is concerned, I don't see any reason to think Gene is lacking. (Copyright 1925, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Big Time For Cards When They Hit Home With First Pennant

St. Louis Fans Sitting up at Nights Making Plans For Hornsby's Home-coming

Boston's Defeat of Cincinnati Helped St. Louis Along Route Yesterday

New York, Sept. 22.—Whatever chance Cincinnati had of overhauling the speeding St. Louis Cardinals in the last four games of the National League race appeared remote to-day with the Cardinal lead of two games still intact and but four more games to play.

The Boston Braves, completing the rout they started Monday with a double victory over Cincinnati, yesterday shut out the mid-westerners four to nothing in a fifth consecutive defeat. The Cardinals gained nothing on the day, when Brooklyn beat them 4-3, but with the end of the season just around the corner each day without a loss in standing sends the St. Louis chances soaring. Only a crushing reversal of form seems able to stop the Cards now.

St. Louis fans already are planning a demonstration to celebrate the winning of the city's first National League pennant when the team finishes its swing through the East for final games with Brooklyn, New York and Cincinnati. Torchlight parades, a carnival and street dancing are due, bells will ring and whistles toot when the news is received that the Cards have clinched the pennant.

The standing to-day:

	W.	L.	Pct.	To Play
St. Louis	87	63	.580	4
Cincinnati	85	65	.567	4

TWO MORE NEEDED

The New York Yankees battered Chicago 14-0 and maintained their three-game lead over Cleveland, while the Indians were beating the Red Sox 6-1. Babe Ruth hit his 44th homer. The Yankees need two more wins in five games to clinch the flag.

The standing to-day:

	W.	L.	Pct.	To Play
New York	89	60	.597	5
Cleveland	86	63	.577	5

Washington beat St. Louis 11-5. Philadelphia defeated Detroit 5-2. The New York Giants defeated Chicago 5-2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates took a seven-to-two fall out of Philadelphia.

Victoria Golf Club Will Send Team to Seattle Saturday

The following is the team which will represent the Victoria Golf Club in the second half of the Stritar competition cup to be played at Seattle on Saturday next: A. G. Beasley, N. Thornton, Ed. A. V. Mosen, Jack Matson, Harold Wilson, Dick Moore, A. T. Goward, R. C. Burdick, Harold Haynes, A. S. G. Musgrave, W. H. MacInnes, Dr. C. A. Boyd, Dick W. Kirkham, A. H. Ford, W. L. McIntosh, J. V. Scrivner and A. C. Watts.

The first half was played at Oak Bay in the Spring resulting in a lead for the Victoria Golf Club of 22 points.

TEN ROUNDS WITH DEMPSEY

What kind of a fellow is Dempsey? I have heard that question answered in ways that were flattering and unflattering to the heavy-weight champion.

I know of no better way to answer it than to say that there are few people who know him that don't like him. . . and don't keep on liking him.

To me he is the most extraordinary figure the fight game has produced in years. An amazing combination of brute savagery and childish gentility. An incongruous composite of rumbling thunder and soft sunshine. Truly, a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde in equal parts.

Consider this picture: Dempsey is going through his training routine for the Tunney fight out at the dog track a mile or so from the roaring surf at Atlantic City. As usual he is all business. His swarthy features are distorted in a scowl. His lips are drawn tight over two rows of even teeth. He is boxing a welterweight named Johnny Saxon, a ham-and-egger from Bridgeport.

The mixing is fast and spirited. The champion is getting a fine leg and arm workout calculated to sharpen his speed. He is stepping in and out without trying to land any heavy punches. Suddenly the lands short left hook, unmeaningly, and Saxon drops in a heap, completely knocked out.

STARTS IN ON ANOTHER
Unperturbed, the twisted imprint of the savage still on his face, Dempsey turned to Bill Tate, the giant negro, and said, "Carry him out." Then looking over his other sparring partners who sat huddled at the edge of the ring he beckoned to Alex Hart, Ohio welterweight. "Come on, you finish the round." He is.

At the very moment Saxon was being carried into the dressing-room on the bronze shoulders of Tate, limp as a sack of oats, Dempsey was crowding Hart, his new victim, to the ropes, pumping rights and lefts into his hide and jostling him around with a ferocity that indicated beyond all doubt that he was not concerned in the least by what had just happened to the smaller Saxon.

That is the Dempsey you see in the ring, a relentless, unyielding, primitive man in whose makeup the qualities of mercy and compassion have no place.

Now consider this picture: It is the following day. Not wishing to rush his training too swiftly Dempsey decides to take the day off, where does he spend it? At the Children's Seaside Home, an orphanage for cripples at Atlantic City.

This is no grand flourish, or gaudy gesture. Dempsey loves children. He has been to his particular orphanage before. With him it is sort of a ritual to be performed whenever he is in or near Atlantic City.

Watching the man move from one of the little white cots to another beaming down on the tiny bent bodies, pausing here and there to take a pair of wax-like hands in his big brown paws, stopping, finally, to clasp a bed-ridden child with his eager eyes and dancing curls to his chest—watching this picture you see the other Dempsey, and it's just as real and genuine a pattern as the Dempsey you see in the ring with eyes flashing and fists flying. THEY CALL HIM "HARRY"

Dempsey is thoroughly human and like the other Dempsey, and it's just as real and genuine a pattern as the Dempsey you see in the ring with eyes flashing and fists flying. THEY CALL HIM "HARRY"

Dempsey's real love is for his blood kin. None of the Dempseys—and there are plenty of them—are in want. Dempsey's mother and father are separated. Yet the champion's adoration for the two remains unshaken. He has built homes at different places for his dad and his mother.

The only two persons in the world who don't call him "Jack" are his parents. To them he is "Harry" always. Jack is a ring name. William Harrison, as everyone knows, is his baptismal name. Dempsey calls the mother "maw" and his dad "pop."

Dempsey's likes and dislikes are violent and enduring. For instance, he will never make up with Jack Kearns, his former manager. He offers mutual friends to ignore the controversy but when they don't and they indicate a favoritism for Kearns the are promptly dropped from his list.

Dempsey probably "stakes" more down-and-outers in the boxing racket than any fighter who ever held the title. Nobody who comes to him is turned down. I am told that his "charity pay roll" since he won the title in 1919 exceeds $100,000, and I'm inclined to believe it.

A REAL MODERNIST
In the sense that events of the past hold no great fascination for him, Jack Dempsey is a modernist. You learn that talking to him about fights and fighters. He is vague sort of way he is interested in the historical ring battles of the past, but not excited or impressed.

Dempsey fights and lives in the present. I asked him to name the outstanding fighters in the game from flyweight to heavyweight. "You don't mean of all time, do you?" he parried.

I answered the ringside workshopers would undoubtedly be interested in his estimate of the old-timers as compared with the present-day punchers but he refused to be led into such a controversy. "The first heavyweight champion I ever saw in action was Jess Willard," explained Dempsey. "I have no way of knowing whether he was worse or better than any of the old-time champions."

THE DEMPSEY LINE-UP
"I've heard plenty of people say Willard wouldn't have lasted long against any of the old champions. Possibly they are right. But I don't know. Personally I found him easier than I expected but tough enough at that."

Dempsey finally agreed to name the greatest fighters he ever saw with the following result: Flyweight—Pancho Villa. Bantamweight—Pete Herman. Featherweight—Johnny Kilbane. Light weight—Benny Leonard. Welterweight—Mickey Walker. Middleweight—Harry Greb. Light-heavyweight—Georges Carpentier. Heavyweight—Jack Dempsey.

"You might as well put my name in the list," Dempsey remarked grinning. "If I don't think I'm pretty good it's a cinch nobody else will."

LIKED VILLA BEST
Dempsey liked the late Villa best of all the little men on account of his eternal aggressiveness. Villa more than any other modern champion was Dempsey's truest counterpart in the ring.

Dempsey admits Leonard was the greatest all-around batter he ever saw. "Boxers who can do nothing but box do not deserve to be called great," contends the champion. "Neither do fighters who can do nothing but fight. But the man who can combine the two styles and bring to them a shrewd, crafty, mental application leaves nothing to be desired."

Dempsey maintains Leonard was that type of fighter, and the only one of that type the game has had during his (Dempsey's) time.

REGARD FOR GEORGES
Greb always represented an interesting problem to Dempsey, and would have liked a chance to battle him a year or so ago just to see, as he explains, "if I could have tagged him."

Greb worked out with Dempsey several times and his speed and peculiar mode of battle invariably bewildered the champion. Not once was he able to "tag" the Pittsburgh windmill with a solid punch. Dempsey has a surprisingly high regard for Carpentier. He thinks Carpentier—the old Carpentier—could have whipped Tommy Gibbons could have whipped any of the great deal of trouble.

"The Frenchman was a fine hitter," says Dempsey. "And a fine biter who is game and cunning, and Carpentier certainly was not to be trifled with. He was a better biter in his day than Gibbons or Tunney and he was just about as good in all the other important respects."

MENUS FOR THE FAMILY

By SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Red raspberries with uncooked cereal and thin cream, plain omelet, crisp toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON—New peas and potatoes, sliced tomatoes, whole wheat bread, strawberry preserves, milk, tea. DINNER—Stuffed mutton chops, creamed cauliflower, string bean salad, graham bread, green apple sauce, ginger bread, milk, coffee. If you find it necessary to "stretch" the peas, try the following recipe and you'll decide it's very much worth while and you'll use the dish even if the peas don't need stretching.

Children under six years of age may have the juice of red raspberries but should not be allowed to eat the whole berry on account of the seeds. New Peas and Potatoes

Two cups shelled peas, 1 cup diced new potatoes, 1-3 cup minced onion, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon brown sugar, 1 tablespoon minced mint leaves (optional), 1-2 teaspoon flour.

Melt butter, add onion and cook over a low fire until pale straw color. Mix sugar and flour thoroughly and sprinkle over onions. Stir with a fork until perfectly blended and add potatoes and peas and mint leaves if convenient. Add boiling water to cover and bring to the boiling point. Cover sauce pan and cook over a low fire for thirty minutes. Keep the water "moving" but not boiling hard. Turn into a hot vegetable dish and serve.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO HOLD CONVENTION IN CITY THIS WEEK

Members of the British Columbia and Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association will visit Victoria Friday for their annual convention. With friends of the editors, the party will number about 100. They will be entertained by the local newspapers at an informal dinner the evening of their arrival. On Saturday afternoon the lady members of the party will be driven about the city and its immediate district, concluding with a visit to Government House, where they will be received by Lieut.-Gov. R. Randolph Bruce.

J. A. Bates of White Rock is president of the organization of visiting newspapermen and will preside over the convention. At the big dinner in their honor at the Empress Hotel members of the Provincial Government and city officials will extend greetings to the visitors.

Saturday afternoon the ladies have been invited by Mr. Aude to visit the Crystal Garden and enjoy the pool facilities.

Ex-Ontario Left Destitute by Big Florida Hurricane

Toronto, Sept. 22.—Harry Levitt, formerly of Hamilton, Ontario, whose holdings in Miami, Florida, real estate were estimated to have totaled $5,000,000, to-day wires relative here that he and his wife were safe, but destitute. The Levitt fortune had been completely wiped out in the storm of last Friday and Saturday, the telegram said.

Mr. Levitt and his family moved to Florida five years ago and he held real estate which was known to have netted him a large fortune.

G. H. WORTHINGTON IS CANDIDATE FOR VANCOUVER'S MAYOR

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—Ald. G. H. Worthington, a member of the city council for the past three years, announced to-day his candidature for the mayoralty in the December election contest.

AIR STATION DAMAGED
Washington, Sept. 22.—Severe damage to the naval air station at Pensacola during the tropical hurricane was reported to the Navy Department in a message from there by radio, relayed here from the radio station at Algiers, near New Orleans. The message gave no details of property damage outside of the naval reservation except to say the main water supply had failed and probably could not be restored fully within two weeks.

No serious casualties among the personnel had been reported. Your next classified ad will probably interest the home seekers—who always read and investigate ads.

VANITY CASE

By Carolyn Wells
© 1926 by G.P. PUTNAM SONS

"No, Miss Moore, it was natural. You were stunned, and, moreover, you had reason to believe that Mr. Inman knew something of the matter, or he would not be spying on you. You had reason to think Mr. Heath was in the house—hadn't you?"

"I don't know. I didn't think about Perry—about anyone—but Mr. Inman cried and I fell into a sort of sleep. But I kept starting up and listening every few minutes. And not another sound did I hear in that house all night long. Toward daylight, I began to wonder, if it hadn't been a dream, I got up and undressed and went to bed properly, but I waited almost breathlessly for what the morning might bring. So, when Carter came to tell me the news, I was sitting up in bed, crying."

Steve Truitt looked at her earnestly, but piercingly.

"You were afraid to say anything, because you feared—still fear—that Perry Heath was the criminal and you love him."

"I did love him then," said Bunny, simply. "I don't, now."

CHAPTER XLII

Mrs. Prentiss and her nephew came home from the funeral, full of that heavy gloom always engendered by such occasions.

"Good boy, Truitt!" Tod cried, on seeing his friend. "You're the Old Dependable still, I see. And you've scraped acquaintance with our little lady, here. That's all to the good."

"Have you been shown to your room? Did they make you comfortable?"

Miss Prentiss hovered about like a mother hen, and though she got no definite answers to her questions, she gathered that her servants had done their duty by the new guest.

"No," said Tod, in answer to a query from Bunny. "Heath didn't show up. I didn't expect he would. Now, I say, Steve, whatever you do, or plan to do, you'd better get busy. For Mott has fire in his eye, and he's coming over here—"

"When?" Bunny asked.

"Right away. I shouldn't wonder. Have you two talked a bit?"

"Yes," Truitt said gravely. "Miss Moore has told me, I think, some details that she hasn't before disclosed. Now, am I Captain here, Tod?"

"You're Captain of this end of the investigation. I mean you're to do all you can to clear Miss Moore of suspicion and to steer Mott off her track."

"If Miss Moore is cleared of suspicion, surely that will automatically put Mott off that track."

"Yes. Can he do it?"

"What?" Clear Miss Moore? Certainly. I can clear anybody who is innocent."

Toddy Buck gave a quick, glad look from one to the other of the pair before him.

"You'll get your chance, then," he said, "for here comes Mr. Inman. The detective came in and was politely greeted. He sensed a slight antagonism, but it did not baffle him, for he was more or less accustomed to that."

"Mr. Truitt," Tod said, as he introduced the men, "is a private detective as well as a friend of mine. He is here to assist in investigating the Heath case if you care to consider his work in the light of assistance. If not, he will proceed independently. We hope there will be no friction or discord, but that, Mr. Mott, is up to you."

Tod's voice, though quiet, had a serious ring, and Mott hesitated a moment before he replied:

"You are putting it baldly, Mr. Buck, and I'm not sure I can answer offhand. But I have no reason to refuse Mr. Truitt's help, and don't. But if his conclusions seem to me untrue or unwarranted, I shall not consider myself in any way bound to accept them."

"Of course not," said Truitt, himself. "But I fancy we shall not conflict, Mr. Mott. Suppose we run over our main assets. I'm quite sure we must agree that whoever killed Mrs. Heath, also put the make-up on her face."

Mott looked a little uncertain.

"For it seems to me, that by no stretch of the imagination, can we conceive of someone else thus treating the face of a woman already dead."

"It ain't likely," said Mott, speaking a bit unweildily for this very natural assumption hadn't occurred to him.

"Then, as we have proved that the make-up came from the vanity case belonging to Miss Moore, we must place a great deal of importance on all evidence connected with that vanity case."

"You bet it's important!" Mott declared, with a direct glance at Bunny.

"You have it?" went on Truitt.

"Yes, sir, and I propose to keep it. It is the keynote of the whole affair. It is the thing that will send the murderer to the chair!"

"I quite agree with you," Truitt said, gravely. "It is the keynote of the whole affair. I hope you will keep it. Now, Mr. Mott, whose finger prints were on that gold vanity case?"

"Miss Moore's."

"Yes, but whose else?"

"Didn't try out any others. There were more or less blurred impressions, but Miss Moore's prints were on top, and over all others, and there were plenty of 'em!"

"Yes, but you see, Mr. Mott, Miss Moore had her vanity case in her possession after the murder was discovered. Naturally, she fingered it."

"Where'd she have it?"

"Up in my room," Bunny replied, as the question was flung in her direction.

"How'd it get up there?"

"I carried it up."

"After the murder?"

"Y—yes, after the murder."

Bunny, with Steve Truitt's eyes to guide her, was answering Mott with a quiet composure, and even a self-assurance that he had never seen her exhibit before.

"You were downstairs that night, then?"

"I was."

"Perhaps, Miss Moore," Truitt said, "it would be better for you to tell Mr. Mott about your going downstairs that night, after Mrs. Heath had been killed."

And so, simply and coherently,

Bunny related the story of her visit to the studio, her finding Myra there, dead, and with the make-up on her face.

"Did you think the make-up was out of your box?" demanded Mott.

"I was unable to doubt the straightforward story of the girl."

"I didn't think about that. What I went down for was to get that vanity case. When I saw Mrs. Heath, I was so stunned, so shocked, I scarcely knew what I was doing. I caught up the vanity case, almost unconsciously, and I crept out of the room and upstairs, trembling and shaking with horror and fear."

"Fear of what?"

"Of nothing definite. Only the vague, shuddering fear that any man would feel after seeing a scene like that."

Tod Buck looked at the girl in amazement. What had come over Bunny to change so suddenly from a nervous, hysterical state to this calm, poised attitude?

Then, he remembered she'd had nearly an hour alone with Truitt. He rightly concluded that Steve had coached her.

Mott, too, was disturbed at Bunny's demeanor. He had meant to brow beat her, to frighten her, to put her through a mild third degree, but he had meant to fasten the crime on her, or get from her some direct evidence against another.

And now, she not only had a strong and formidable champion, but she had, apparently, found herself, and Mott was at a decided disadvantage.

"Well, then," he said, after a short pause, "it begins to look like Mr. Inman is our man."

"Why?" asked Truitt, suavely.

"Because he looked out of his door as Miss Moore came upstairs? Almost anyone would look out into the hall at the sound of footsteps in the house at two o'clock in the morning."

"Especially a guilty man," growled Mott, who began to feel he was not shining as a detective.

"Yet that's scarcely enough to base a murder charge on. What other evidence have you, Mr. Mott, that you say so confidently Mr. Inman is our man?"

"Well, the servants saw him going downstairs."

"Yes, but that was at two o'clock, after Miss Moore has already been down and had seen Mrs. Heath dead."

Mott looked glum. The new revelation of Bunny's trip downstairs had not yet been adjusted by him to his other facts.

CHAPTER XLIII

"I don't believe we can work together, Mr. Truitt," Mott said, rising. "You're too ready to pick on me."

"Not at all—not at all, Mr. Mott," Steve looked almost distressed. "And Steve looked almost distressed. "I've just taken hold of this thing, you see, and if I seem to question your deductions, it's only to get at what there is back of them. Well, we shall meet again soon, and perhaps we'll both have something to tell."

Thus practically dismissed, Mott went away, and Steve Truitt looked at his friends.

"I had to fire him," he said apologetically. "I don't want to antagonize him, but I can't work with him. Now, Tod, let's go over to the Heath house. I can't go any further until we do."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Sweet Flag

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis).

"Wait a minute, Uncle Wiggily! Wait a minute!" called Nurse Jane. "Fussy Wuzzy as the rabbit gentleman was hopping away from his hot little bungalow one morning. 'All right, I'll wait,' answered the bunny. 'But please don't tell me I have forgotten to put on my pink, twinkling nose!' he said as he laughed and felt with one paw. However, his nose was on all right, just where it belonged, between his bright eyes."

"I suppose you are going adventuring when you have done with your joking," said the muskrat lady, house-keeper, who was a bit serious like, and not much inclined to fun.

"Yes, I am going adventuring," replied Mr. Longears. "May I have the pleasure of your company?" he asked politely, bowing with his tall silk hat.

"Oh, I'm so busy I couldn't think of coming with you," answered the muskrat lady. "But while you are hunting for an adventure I wish you would also look for some sweet flag."

"Oh, yes—sweet flag," exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "It is now about the time of year to gather that. I suppose you want some to have in the bungalow during the winter, so if any of my little bunnies have a pain you can cure it with the sweet flag."

"That's it!" said Nurse Jane. "I'll look for some," promised the bunny gentleman.

Off he hopped, down toward the keeper, who was a bit serious like, and not much inclined to fun.

"That's it!" said Nurse Jane. "I'll look for some," promised the bunny gentleman.

Off he hopped, down toward the hook, for there the sweet flag would grow, if anywhere, is being a plant that loves to be near water.

I suppose some of you, on reading the name of this story, thought I was going to tell about a waving red, white and blue flag with sugar on it. But I don't mean that kind of a sweet flag.

Sweet flag is the common name for a plant called calamus. It grows tall and green, like the "cat tails" in a swamp. But it is a bit different. For the white root of the long, green calamus stalks is good as medicine, and when dried, and baked with a coating of sugar, is very good to eat, if you don't take too much.

Without its coating of sugar, sweet flag root bites your tongue, and too much of it would make your mouth smart as if you had taken mustard. So one must not take more than a nibble at a time.

Uncle Wiggily hopped along the path by the brook, and soon he saw, waving in the breeze, some tall, green stalks.

"Ah, there is the sweet flag!" said the rabbit gentleman. But when he had pulled up some of the green stalks, and had looked at the white roots on the end, he saw he had nothing but "cat tails," which wasn't what he wanted.

"Try again!" said the bunny, and he hopped on a little farther until he found real sweet flag, or calamus, this time. So he took the white roots home to Nurse Jane, who said:

"I will put them out on top of the woodshed to dry in the sun. And when the roots are dried, I'll cut them into little round slices like buttons, put them on a pan in the oven with sugar and we will soon have candied sweet flag to eat and for medicine."

"Very good," spoke Uncle Wiggily, but a little later it was not so good, for he heard a voice out near the woodshed crying: "Ouch! Oh, dear! how my tongue burns! Ouchie, my lips! Oh, I'm all on fire inside!"

Running around back of his bungalow Uncle Wiggily saw the unpleasant old Bob Cat, with his silly little tail, running around trying to find water to drink.

"Ho there, Bob Cat! Did you take some of Nurse Jane's sweet flag off the roof?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Sweet flag, is it?" cried the bad chap. "I took some white things off the woodshed roof, thinking they were good to eat. But, oh, how they burn my mouth! Let me get water quick! Sweet flag!! Huh!! I call it biting flag!"

"It does bite if you take too much and have no sugar on it," laughed Mr. Longears. "But you should not have taken what didn't belong to you, Mr. Bob Cat!" And the bad chap shouldn't, I think. I don't know how you feel about it, but that is what I think. Anyhow, when the sweet flag was properly sugared it was good to eat and the little bunnies each had a tiny nibble. And if the jumping Jack doesn't try to play marbles with the rag doll's shoe button eyes, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the rolling egg.

Keating

Keating, Sept. 22.—The Harvest Thanksgiving service was held in the South Saanich United Church Sunday morning. The church had been beautifully decorated by members of the Young People's Club with a collection of fruit, vegetables and autumn flowers, and the Thanksgiving message was delivered by the pastor, Rev. M. W. Lees. Appropriate harvest music was rendered by the united choir of Sidney and South Saanich.

The Ladies' Aid of the South Saanich United Church held a harvest social and concert in the Temperance Hall Monday evening. An excellent concert programme of music and songs was rendered by a concert party under the direction of Ed. Parsons of the Metropolitan United Church of Victoria. Rev. M. W. Lees presided. Those taking part were as follows: Piano solo, Ed. Parsons; solo, F. Wright; solo, Miss Phyllis Deaville; vocal solo, Mrs. Ed. Parsons; solo, James Bryant; vocal duet, Miss Phyllis Deaville and Miss Dorothy Parsons; solo, Mrs. George Reid; solo, F. Wright; solo, Miss Dorothy Parsons; solo, James Bryant. During an intermission in the programme home-made candy was sold by members of the Young People's Club and after the concert refreshments were served to all present by members of the Ladies' Aid. During the evening Capt. N. Gray, on behalf of the Ladies' Aid and those present moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Parsons and his party for the evening entertainment. Mr. Parsons suitably responded.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Michell, Telegraph Road, returned home on Sunday after three weeks' vacation spent on a motor trip to California, going as far south as Los Angeles.

Mrs. Ed. Lester, Oak Street, Saanich, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wright, Telegraph Road.

DELEGATES ENJOY SMOKING CONCERT

Over 300 Veterans Attending Here For Army and Navy Meeting

At an enjoyable smoking concert and social held last night in the headquarters of the Victoria unit of the Dominion president, Major-General Hon. W. A. Griesbach, who was introduced by George Gardiner, local president, and a Dominion vice-president. In a stirring speech Major-General Griesbach urged delegates to the full realization of their duty during the days of business at the convention.

The entertainment was contributed by George Gardiner, C. Jasper, Commodore Morris, McBride, Obee, Barnard and Constable W. J. Thomson, B. C. Police.

Comrade J. R. Vannick of the Shaughnessy Hospital, Vancouver, made a presentation of a silk shawl, a beautiful piece of workmanship, to be disposed of for the benefit of the organization.

The Winnipeg delegation of veterans who attended the social last night included: Capt. F. Thuid, C. O'Malley, G. Champney, C. Barnard, Capt. Morris Jones, Sergeant-Major R. S. M. Lecapellain and G. W. Maxwell, secretary-treasurer of the Winnipeg Army and Navy Veterans.

BELL WILL APPEAL WESTHOLME RULING

City Officials Surprised At New Move After Former Statements Recalled

P. W. W. Bell may appeal the decision of the Supreme Court ruling that he had no further cause to concern himself with matters in dispute between the City of Victoria and the former Westholme Lumber Company, it is announced by W. J. Taylor, K. C., senior counsel for defendant in the action won by the City yesterday.

At present the city is in possession of an injunction restraining Mr. Bell from taking any part in a dispute which it claims was settled by the courts long ago.

When he summoned City officials to appear before him at a hearing at the Courthouse recently, Mr. Bell announced that he had taken legal advice on his position, and felt it was his duty to proceed. He was pressed on the one side by the Westholme Lumber Company interests, and on the other by the City, he said.

It was to straighten out the tangle the City took its personal suit against Mr. Bell, seeking to relieve him of any responsibility in the dispute over the former Sooke waterworks contract.

Word that Mr. Bell may appeal this decision was received with considerable surprise at the City Hall to-day.

Construction in progress on the labor-capital apartments

It's a "miracle" that is in the making on a block of ground in New York's Bronx, according to Architect Andrew J. Thomas.

On this block John D. Rockefeller Jr. is building an apartment house in which 180 families of wage earners will find high-grade, low cost shelter next winter. It's to cost a million and a quarter dollars, more or less. Thomas is the designer.

Pleas to carpenters, bricklayers, stone masons, plasterers and plumbers to intensify their toll mark the architect's enthusiasm over the partnership of labor and capital which the venture represents.

"It's your job, not ours," he tells them. "Don't waste a minute of your day. Drive nails faster, lay more bricks to the square hour, saw three boards in the time you once used for two, and down goes the rent."

Scientist Braves Perils of Deep to Photograph Life With New Device

By ISRAEL KLEIN

The mollusk, or shellfish, is the favorite study of Dr. Paul Bartsch, curator in the Museum under the Smithsonian Institution at Washington.

These queer marine animals have led to Dr. Bartsch's being responsible for the invention of a new kind of movie camera, one that can be operated under water.

And the mollusks, in addition, may develop Dr. Bartsch into one of the world's most daring divers.

The test of the camera and of Dr. Bartsch's daredevilry is to be made soon at the Marine Biological Station of the Carnegie Institute at the Tortugas, small islands north of Haiti.

WEARS ONLY HELMET

There, Dr. Bartsch will cover his body with olive oil, don only a diver's helmet and drop to the bottom of the sea with his new camera to portray sea life in films. Rid of the cumbersome diver's apparel, he will be able to move about more freely.

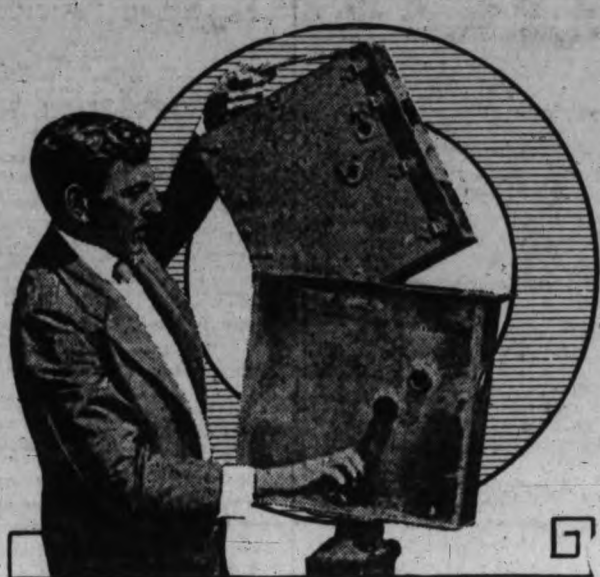

The water at the depth to which he will descend is very cold, and would produce violent chills unless some sort of protection was provided. This protection is furnished by the coat of olive oil which will allow him to stay under water as long as five or six hours. Air will be pumped to him from a launch above.

In this way, he has worked as deep as thirty-five feet below the surface, although he ordinarily works in a depth of 10 or 12 feet.

DISCLOSE SECRETS

Dr. Bartsch used a small camera in 1922 which couldn't be focused for fear of water leakage. The swaying of his body by the water currents, while he held the camera, induced sea-sickness in the audience that watched the film on the screen.

As a result Dr. Bartsch directed the construction of the new camera, which carries 400 feet of film, can be cranked by hand and so regulated as to speed, and can be focused. It is also set up on a tripod for steadiness and can be tilted or turned for panoramic views.

Through this camera Dr. Bartsch expects to reveal more intimately the life of the sea, what groups of marine animals and plants gather together and under what conditions. The sea carries the secret of existence, scientists believe, from the earliest form of life to the latest. Here may be found perhaps the

The Largest Belt Press in Canada

Is Only One of Six Needed to Meet the Demands for Goodyear Belts

SO great is the swing of industry to Goodyear belts that to our large equipment of belt presses has been added a veritable giant. Double-decked! Exerting a steam pressure of several hundred pounds to the square inch! This pressure with fine rubber prevents separation of plies.

And this is only one of six. Five other presses in this Goodyear plant at Bowmanville, Ontario. Some of them will make belts 6 feet wide.

Only the most outstanding quality could bring the volume of sales which makes such equipment necessary. And this giant equipment in turn improves the quality and reduces the cost of Goodyear belts.

Goodyear builds a belt or a hose or a packing or a valve specially to meet each problem of industry. The Goodyear man is prepared to give you expert advice in the choice of your mechanical rubber goods. Get in touch with the Goodyear Mechanical Goods dealer or with the nearest Goodyear branch.
